Professor Murphy,

Now that I have confirmation from your information officer (as well as Oxford's) that Leicester subjects its students to a spy program with the collaboration of Britain's secret services and under the auspices of CONTEST, in addition to which I have evidence that you and various other Leicester officials and staff have lied on record and have corrupted the adjudication process, I am giving Leicester one week to do the right thing. Should I not hear from you by the end of this week, I will lay charges against Leicester with the Office of the Independent Adjudicator, the Equality and Human Rights Commission, the Information Commissioner and concomitantly a court of law here in Canada. We can do this the easy way or the hard way, that is to say discreetly or publicly, the choice is yours. If you choose the latter, expect to be in the news soon. Given the shameful way in which Leicester is violating its students' civil and human rights, I will be surprised if you and several of your colleagues and staff will not end up in jail if you continue down this path.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Kevin Galalae
